PACIFIC CABLE.

There is an article in the San Francisco Bulletin, headed "Work for Mr. Dole," which says it is in order to consider seriously Mr. Dole's recommendation that the Hawaiian Government should lend every effort to secure the laying of a cable between Honolulu and the shore of California. The article goes on to say that if Mr. Dole and his cabinet study the subject with intelligence, they will perceive that the most promising way of laying the cable is to undertake it as a Hawaiian enterprise. It says the United States has done its share in surveying the route, and that Congress will almost certainly refuse to appropriate five millions to complete the enterprise. Perhaps it would be a wise expenditure, it says, but the East is not yet ripe for it.

On the other hand, our San Francisco namesake says there is no prospect that either Great Britain or Canada will undertake the enterprise, as they have not up to this time thought the route worth surveying. The writer of the article in question is rather poorly posted. There are British official reports extant showing that all the surveys necessary to giving out a contract are in existence. One of the Imperial questions being most canvassed at this moment in London, Canada and Australia is that of a cable between Canada and Australia. Honolulu, at latest accounts, is not on the route at all, but if the British cable be laid it will be a most serious damper on the prospects of a cable between the Pacific Coast and Hawaii. The through business is what is to attract capital to the enterprise, and none would touch a local cable by itself. If Hon. Andrew Coote, upon whose scheme this Government is apparently relying, should get the aid of the United States Government, then an international cable taking in Hawaii would probably get in ahead of the all-British cable for the through business, and perhaps cause that patriotic dream of Imperialists to be long deferred in realization. If the Bulletin reflects the public opinion of the United States, Mr. Coote may save himself the expense of his projected journey to Washington, and the Hawaiian Government abandon its fond hopes of having early cable communication with the outside world.

The San Francisco journal recommends this Government to issue bonds for five million dollars to lay the cable on its own account. This is nonsense. There is not a cable corporation possible of organization to lay a local cable between Honolulu and San Francisco on such a basis, and this country is too small to take such a burden on itself for a project that would be of more benefit to other countries than it would to Hawaii. These islands can afford to wait for a cable just as long as the great Powers who have commerce and ships of war and of peace in these waters worth more than the fee simple of the whole group.

Deputy Marshal Brown was the official selected to take the pardons to Hawaii.

OBSERVATIONS.

Deputy Marshal Brown has been sent to Hawaii with the pardons for the political prisoners working on the Volcano road. Is the Government going to turn these men loose at Hilo, and allow them to pay their own passages home to Oahu? Surely the Government has got enough value out of their labor on the road to afford them a deck passage home.

Timely Topics

June 26, 1895.

INTO the soft, warm light of the drawing-room the heavy odors from the conservatory floated and filled the place as with a fog of flowers.

Beneath the crystal chandelier, which shone in the mellow light as a suspended rainbow in an atmosphere of gold, stood a fair, pale girl, erect, imperious, beautiful.

Shrinking away into the shadows was the object of it. It was a young man in a red waistcoat, with other things to match.

He had told her of his love for her, of his devotion to her; of his worship, of the dear desire of his heart to make her his own, and in the midst of it she stopped him suddenly.

"Enough," she exclaimed. "Enough! I will not listen to another word."

"Hear me out," he pleaded. "Hear me out."

"Never," she laughed, scornfully, "but I will take great pleasure in seeing you out," and the shadows closed around that shrinking youth like the deadly arms of the octopus.

Slowly and sadly he mounted his wheel and rode forth into the cold, cold world of this city. In spite of our Paradise-of-the-Pacific climate it had been a cold day for him and he could not get rid of a crushed-strawberry-and-ice-cream feeling in the region of his heart which would not away.

Passing the Hawaiian Hardware Company's store the brilliant scintillations from the electric globes on the Monarch bicycle in their window attracted his attention and like an electric flash the thought entered his mind, "I wonder if she is mad because I never asked her to take a bicycle ride with me. I'll do it if it takes my last dollar." Without a second's hesitation he walked into the store and ordered a Monarch ladies' wheel sent to her house, first tying his card to it.

That same evening he received a polite note asking him to call again. He went and two minutes sufficed to make him the happiest man in Honolulu, the cause of the whole trouble being that the young lady suspected him of taking other girls out bicycle riding and was jealous accordingly. There will be another wedding in Honolulu in a few weeks.

While we are on the subject of girls and wheels we will state that we are prepared to furnish bicycles enough, for every engaged girl in Honolulu or even for every girl who wants to be engaged.

Ladies and misses are cordially invited to call at the store and examine the Monarch wheels, for which we are sole agents for the Hawaiian Islands.
